A VACANT SEAT.

Death of Associate Justice Stanley Matthews.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF THE DECEASED.

Interesting Report From a Senatorial Committee Showing How Red Tape Retards the Dispatch of Public Business. The Senate to Adjourn in a Few Days. Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Hon. Stanley Matthews, of Ohio, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, died at 10:05 a. m.

He has been quite sick for three weeks, although his original illness dates much further back. Last week Justice Matthews was so much worse that Dr. Johnson remained with him during the entire night. He passed away peacefully. All of his family, with the exception of his son, were present at the death scene.

JUSTICE STANLEY MATTHEWS

The funeral services will be held here at 1 p. m., on Monday next, and the remains will leave the city at 3 o'clock on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for Glendale, the late justice's country residence near Cincinnati. The interment will take place on Wednesday at Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati.

The supreme court met and out of respect adjourned until Tuesday next.

Justice Matthews was born in Cincinnati, July 21, 1824. He was graduated at Kenyon college in 1840, studied law and was admitted to the bar, settling in Maury county, Tennessee. He shortly afterward returned to Cincinnati.

In 1846 he became editor of the Cincinnati Herald, the first daily anti-slavery paper in that city. He became judge of the court of common pleas in Hamilton county in 1851, was state senator in 1855, and in 1856-61 was United States attorney for the southern district of Ohio.

He served with distinction in the Union army during the war, but resigned his commission as colonel in 1863 to become judge of the superior court of Cincinnati. He was a presidential elector on the Lincoln-Johnson ticket in 1864 and on the Grant-Coifay ticket in 1868. He was defeated as Republican candidate for congress in 1876, and in the next year was one of the counsel before the celebrated electoral commission, opening the argument in behalf of the Republican electors of Florida, and making the principal argument in the Oregon case. In March he was elected United States senator in place of John Sherman, who had resigned. In 1881 he was appointed associate justice of the United States supreme court.

Flags at Half Mast. NEW YORK, March 23.—On receiving the news of Judge Stanley Matthews' death, which was conveyed to him by a United Press reporter, Mayor Grant ordered the National, state and municipal flags to be displayed at half mast over the city hall, out of respect to the memory of the distinguished jurist.

Too Much Red Tape. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The special committee appointed in the last congress to investigate the methods of doing business in the executive departments, of which Senator Cockrell is chairman, has completed its work, and the report prepared by Senator Cockrell, who has really been the committee, will be made to the senate in a few days. The document is an exhaustive and interesting one, containing numerous illustrations of how red tape and senseless adherence to forms and precedents interrupt and retard the dispatch of public business.

The report will show that in some departments, the pension and land bureaus for instance, it requires as long a time as four or five years to settle a claim or get information of certain kinds. Claims filed as far back as 1884 in these bureaus are still undisposed of. In some offices efforts are making to get out of old ruts and adopt new and better methods, with the result that business is dispatched with greater accuracy, more speedily and with greater benefit to those interested. The paymaster general's office is up with current business, and requests for information are answered within twenty-four hours. In the surgeon general's office Dr. Ainsworth has introduced a card index, by the use of which he has caught up with the business, over a year behind at the time he took hold, and been able to furnish information in 12 per cent. of cases, against 59 per cent. under the old style.

Senator Cockrell says there is, however, in many, if not most cases, a disposition to ignore improved ways of doing business; and the report will recommend, among other things, that a commission be appointed, with authority and direction to institute the reforms suggested. He thinks the use of the card index in the military and naval records would not only facilitate the transaction of business, but lead to a very considerable reduction of the clerical force now necessary in the several departments.

Was Prepared for the Rain. WASHINGTON, March 23.—A prominent western gentleman says he spoke to the president about the apprehension on the part of his friends on inauguration day that he might catch cold while compelled to stand out in the cold rain to read his inaugural address and review the procession. The president said that he had prepared for the occasion by putting on a full suit of chamois-skin underclothing. He says at no time did he feel the chilly air. As soon as the procession was over he went directly to his room in the executive mansion and changed his damp clothing and has not in the slightest degree felt any bad effects.

The Senate to Adjourn in a Few Days.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—In the executive session of the senate Thursday morning, Senator Sherman announced that President Harrison had informed him that he would be so far along with his nominations that the senate might conveniently adjourn next week. It is the expectation the special session will end on Thursday or Friday next.

In order to assist the president in his intention, the senate did not take the usual three-day recess. This notification makes it practically certain that no legislative business will be transacted before adjournment. A prominent senator said Thursday that this would be the program. There will probably be, however, some discussion on the resolutions introduced Wednesday by Senator Butler, declaring that the senate has power to elect a president pro tem. for service during an entire term of congress, a decision by the senate being desired by a number of senators upon that disputed point.

In Behalf of the Evening Papers.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Col. Elliott F. Shepard, proprietor of the Mail and Express, of New York, has addressed the following telegram to the secretary of the interior:

"The change of hour for convening the senate to 1 o'clock, instead of as heretofore, will be a great blow to the evening papers all over the country, causing a delay in the receipt of telegraphic reports of nominations, confirmations and other senatorial proceedings, and a corresponding disappointment to hundreds of thousands of people who leave the cities every day for the suburbs and have been accustomed to take the news with them. Will you not kindly do what you may to have the hour of 12 o'clock reinstated?"

ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD.

The World considers Shepard a donkey in journalism for trying to regulate the United States senate, but nevertheless Shepard will receive the thanks of every evening newspaper in the country.

Waiting for Poncefote to Arrive.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Considerable comment has been made about the delay in the nomination of a minister to England, especially as President Harrison has fixed several of the important missions. It is now stated that the president has selected the minister to the court of St. James, but will not for the present send his name to the senate. The president desires, it is stated, to withhold the nomination until after the arrival here of Sir Julian Poncefote, the newly-appointed British minister, and the presentation of his credentials to the department of state.

John C. New's Opinion.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A special to the World from Pittsburgh says that John C. New, in passing through there, said that he thought it was as good as settled that Murat Halstead would be minister to Germany.

FIRE RECORD.

City Building at Dover, New Hampshire, Burned—Other Fires.

DOVER, N. H., March 23.—The city hall building here was totally destroyed by fire, which was discovered near the furnace under the court room at 2:30 a. m.

The building contained the police station, city clerk's office, county commissioners' office, registries of probate and of deeds, police court room, aldermanic and council chambers, offices of the board of assessors, board of supervisors and city messenger, high school cadets' armory and the city opera house, the last with a seating capacity of 1,000.

The roof and steeple of the Belknap church were burned and the interior of the edifice was considerably damaged by water. St. Thomas' Episcopal church took fire several times, but was saved with small damage. Glidden's block was considerably damaged by water, as was also the stores of J. R. Higgins and John Griffin.

The city hall was built in 1867, and, with improvements, cost $71,000. The damage to the city and county records, which were stored in the vaults cannot be learned as yet, as they are buried in the ruins.

Several firemen were injured. Hugh Hanna was struck in the head by falling bricks, and had a cheek bone broken and was otherwise bruised; James Varney was badly burned by a large piece of blazing timber striking him on the neck and pinning him to the ground; David Hammond, foreman of the hook and ladder truck, had a foot crushed by falling timbers, and Samuel Abbott will probably lose an eye, having been struck in the face by a powerful stream of water.

Sixty Horses Burned to Death.

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—Pohlman Brothers' sale and livery stable on Broadway and Carr streets, was destroyed by fire Thursday night and fifty horses burned up. The stable of J. H. Manor was also burned, with ten horses. Some fifty horses in all were saved from both stables. Pohlman's loss is $25,000 and Manor's $5,000, each covered by insurance. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary.

A Man and Eight Horses Perish.

OMAHA, Neb., March 23.—The livery stable belonging to Gordo & Warner, at Newport, Neb., burned Thursday night. J. B. Gordon, one of the proprietors, and eight horses perished in the flames. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

A Kentuckian's Mind to Be Tested.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Isaac Swann, a physician, thirty-six years of age, from Somerset, Ky., is confined in Bellevue hospital, awaiting examination as to his sanity. The police took him in custody several days ago.

Brothers Hanged.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 23.—Timothy and Peter Barrett were hanged here at 11:13 a. m. for the murder of Thomas Tolison, a driver of the Cedar avenue street car line, July 26, 1887.

WEST VIRGINIA.

What Railroad Development is Doing for the State.

$12,000,000 TO BE SPENT IN THE STATE IN A FEW MONTHS.

The Prospects For a Boom in the State Were Never Brighter Than at Present. New York and English Capitalists Said To Be Greatly Interested in the Enterprises.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 23.—More railroad schemes are on foot in this state now than for ten years past. Maj. Brown, of the Kanawha valley, estimated that $12,000,000 will be spent in West Virginia railroads within the next eighteen months.

The new roads to be built are an extension of the Norfolk & Western through the southern counties of the state to the Ohio river, which will be bridged at Credo, and the road continued to Ironton, O., where there are several western outlets. This road will be begun in thirty days, with 2,000 men at work. Bonds to the amount of $6,000,000 have been sold. The road will be 160 miles long and save 600 miles in getting West Virginia coal and iron to the west. The region made famous by the Hatfield-McCoy troubles will be crossed by this road.

President Ingalls, of the Chesapeake & Ohio, is adopting a policy looking for local trade that will develop this state. Chesapeake & Ohio surveyors have recently been over a tract 1,000 miles square locating feeders up every stream that empties into the Kanawha up the Guyandotte river for a distance of 135 miles. Senator Camden and the Ohio River Railroad company are building a feeder to the Ohio river system that will connect with the Norfolk & Western.

A trunk line from Charleston, S. C., is to be extended through this state to the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Senator Camden and party are building a road from Clarksburg to Weston to develop the famous coal fields of the interior.

Ex-Senator Davis has 1,000 men at work completing the West Virginia central. The Black Diamond railroad, costing $15,000,000, has been surveyed from here to the Virginia line.

The territories through which these roads, which will all be standard gauge, run are rich in the finest timber and coal. The prospects for West Virginia's development was never brighter. New York and English capitalists are greatly interested in the new enterprise.

HIGH TIDES AND HEAVY SEAS.

Considerable Damage Done on the New Jersey and Long Island Coasts.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Unusually high tides and heavy seas wrought sad havoc along the New Jersey and Long Island coasts Thursday, and the damage to property will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

At Coney Island the water surged back over the meadows in the direction of Sheepshead, even the race course being submerged. The asphalt pavement on the walk to Brighton Beach is badly damaged.

At West Brighton the bulkheads about the new iron pier, and some of the small frame buildings on Surf avenue have suffered some damage.

At Seabright, N. J., the heavy sea carried away the bulkheads of John P. Duncan, W. J. Riker, F. D. Harmon, Wheeler H. Peckham and others, and undermined the cottage of Mrs. Christain Herter.

At Long Branch the beach is broken up into Ocean avenue. Campbell's massive concrete bulkhead has toppled over.

The New Jersey Southern railroad tracks, between Seabright and Highlands, is covered with sand, which is thrown out by the ocean faster than a gang of laborers can shovel it away.

At Atlantic City the damage is very great. The board walk along the beach has been washed away from Mississippi to Michigan avenues. Bath houses, pavilions, and other small structures near the beach have been demolished. All along the beach and for 300 feet up the avenues debris is strewn on all sides, while down at the lower end it is piled up at some points to a height of ten feet.

Several families living near the beach had barely time to escape before their houses succumbed to the waves. Among the houses destroyed are those of C. J. Kelly and Mrs. Priestly, Pulitzer's bath house, Fitzpatrick's saloon and bath house, the bath houses of Johnson, Wilson and Conway, Bowker's pavilion, Ewald's photograph gallery, and Lee & Sons' bath houses.

A FIENDISH ACT.

A Drunken Husband Runs a Red-Hot Poker Through His Wife's Cheek.

CINCINNATI, March 23.—Ordinary punishments seem inadequate to the crime of Patrick Trainor, a monster, who, because his wife was unable to furnish him with food, seized a red-hot poker and ran it through her left jaw and a portion of her tongue until the point of the hissing instrument protruded three inches from her mouth. This happened Thursday noon at the home of the couple, 567 North avenue.

After his fiendish act Trainor escaped, but was subsequently captured by the police and lodged in Sedgsville station. The victim of his cruel thrust was taken where she might receive medical treatment, but the excruciatingly painful burns on her tender flesh render her condition critical in the extreme. Indeed, her physician informed her that she would probably die either of lockjaw or blood poisoning.

Trainor has been a worthless, drunken husband, supported by his wife's labor. He is forty-four years old and his wife forty-three. Both are natives of Ireland.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 23.—Tom Houston, a dead beat who lays around town doing nothing, Thursday morning received the following notice by mail: "We have tolerated your disgusting conduct until forbearance ceases to be a virtue. You must go to work, take a walk, or suffer the consequences."

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—Abram E. Hewitt said to-day: "My advice to young men will now be, 'go south.' There you will have the advantages of unbounded natural resources, of most liberal treatment on the part of railroads, and the most improved machinery of all kinds. I have found the best examples of furnace management and the most improved methods of mining. DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

SATURDAY EVE, MARCH 23, 1889.

Now is the time for Maysville to secure a shoe factory. Such a proposition as Butler & Tudor's is not offered many cities.

The Republican nomination for Governor in Rhode Island went begging for some time, but the convention has finally succeeded in finding a fellow to accept the honor.

A COUPLE of Kentucky storekeepers and gaugers were appointed Thursday by the Secretary of the Treasury. Let the Kentucky Republicans take courage.—Louisville Post.

One of the appointees, Mr. Austin Holmes of this city, happens to be a Democrat. Republicans are to welcome all the comfort they can get out of that.

LEWISBURG, the banner Democratic precinct in the county, comes to the front to-day with a candidate for Assessor, in the person of Mr. E. M. Tuggle, whose announcement appears in this issue. Mr. Tuggle is a young man, well qualified for the office. He is a tried and true Democrat, and we bespeak for him a candid consideration of his claims at the hands of the party.

A LAW has just been passed by the Connecticut Legislature to prevent the use of tobacco by boys. It imposes a fine of not more than $50 on any person who shall sell, give or deliver to any minor under sixteen tobacco in any form, and also imposes a fine not exceeding $7 on any minor under that age who shall have, smoke, or in any way use tobacco in any form, in any public street, place or resort.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has appointed John D. Fleming to be United States Attorney for the State of Colorado. Mr. Fleming was born and raised in Flemingsburg, Ky., and moved to Louisville, about 1878, when he was made tutor in the Male High School. He retained that position until 1881, when he resigned and went to Colorado. He then commenced the practice of law, and also took an active hand in politics.

THE Georgetown Times has the following timely remarks on the observance of "Arbor Day":

"Arbor Day" deserves to be generally observed throughout Kentucky. On the 30th of March every man in the State ought to plant a tree or have one planted. If he has no ground of his own, he ought to get permission to plant one for his neighbor. It would matter but little whether it was a shade or fruit tree; for ornament or use. Let the word pass along the line—plant a tree on Arbor Day, or a dozen trees, if you may feel so inclined.

THOMAS R. PHISTER, Esq., announces in this issue of the BULLETIN that he is a candidate for the office of County Judge at the August election, 1890, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Phister is thirty years of age—not quite so young as some people may imagine from his appearance. He is the eldest son of the late Judge E. C. Phister, and among the younger class of attorneys in this section none have a more promising future than he. A close student, a hard worker, a fluent speaker, his advancement in the profession has been very gratifying to the wide circle of friends who have watched his course. Without disparagement to any one else who may aspire to the office, none can boast of a better record as a Democrat than Mr. Phister. In the campaigns of late years, he has been in the thickest of the fight, battling for the cause of Democracy. All will admit that he is thoroughly qualified for the position he seeks. He is a clever, level-headed gentleman, and will make an able Judge if elected.

Call for a State Convention.
LEXINGTON, KY., March 21st, 1889.
To the Kentucky Democracy—At a meeting of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees held in this city, the following was adopted:

You are hereby requested to meet in a delegate convention in the City of Louisville at 12 o'clock, noon, on Wednesday, the 8th day of May, 1889, for purpose of nominating a candidate for State Treasurer to be voted for at the next August election. In appointing delegates to the convention it is recommended that the vote for Cleveland and Thurman be taken as a basis and that the ratio of representation be one delegate for every two hundred of said votes and one for each fraction of one hundred and over. It is further recommended that the delegates shall be elected in every county on the same day, to wit: the 27th day of April, 1889, in such manner as the County Committee in each county may prescribe. But if from any cause a County Committee should fail to take action looking to the selection of delegates, they shall be chosen by a mass meeting of the Democracy to be held at the court house of such county or counties at 2 o'clock p. m. of said Saturday, April 27th, 1889, provided that as to the city of Louisville it shall be the duty of the Chairman of each Legislative district to select a place within the said district to hold said meetings and they shall be held at 3 o'clock p. m.
M. C. ALFORD, Chairman.
W. P. KIMBALL, Secretary.

Preferred Marriage to Jail.

At Paris, the celebrated Higgins vs. Embury seduction and bastardy suit culminated in a general surprise Thursday night by the marriage of C. V. Higgins to Cynthia Embury at the jail. Two weeks ago a suit for $39,000 damages, brought by Mrs. Rebecca Aker against Higgins for the seduction of her protegee, Miss Embury, was thrown out of court, but a new trial was granted. Since that time Miss Embury sued for the maintenance of her child, and the jury awarded her $500 per annum for eighteen years, and Higgins was cast into jail in default of bond for $9,000. The young man being in very delicate health, his physicians said that a few months confinement would kill him; hence the marriage.

James O'Neill To-night.

The popular young actor, Mr. James O'Neill, will make his appearance at the opera house to-night in Fechter's great dramatization of Dumas' beautiful story, "Monte Cristo," supported with an excellent company, carrying a special car load of scenery for its production. An exchange says: As presented by Mr. O'Neill, "Monte Cristo" ranks as one of the greatest successes of the modern drama. Everybody who has read the romance has made Edmond Dantes a hero; consequently the impersonation of that hero becomes a matter of popular interest, and when played as O'Neill plays it, a matter of popular delight. It is difficult to imagine any actor of this age surpassing him in the character. He treats the ever varying points of "Monte Cristo's" life with infinite skill and naturalness; he brings to bear upon the work a ripe experience, a sound judgment and a profound and signal mastery of his art. The support is good, the scenery entirely new, the properties handsome and the whole production marked by a refined taste and elaborateness that is characteristic with all that he undertakes.

The Railway World.

Colonel C. B. Childs, consulting engineer of the M. & B. S., has his headquarters in this city for the present.

It is rumored at Ironton that the new "Big Four" car-shops are to be located at Russell opposite that place—on the line of the M. & B. S.

It is reported that the Maysville Accommodation will be taken off the C. & O., and an early morning train from Cincinnati to Huntington put on.

D. S. Pierce, President of the Virginia and Kentucky Railroad, says he will soon begin work on a road from the Western terminus of the Danville and New River Road, Patrick County, Va., to Cincinnati.

Captain E. H. McLeod has been taken off the Accommodation and assigned as Conductor of the Local Freight, running between here and Cincinnati. If the railroad wants to make the accommodation a popular and accommodating train, the best way to do it is to keep such men as Captain McLeod in charge.—Augusta Vindicator.

The case of the Commonwealth against the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company, taken up from Greenup County, was reversed recently by the Court of Appeals. In the decision the court says:

An indictment must set forth the offense with such certainty as to apprise the defendant of the accusation upon which he is to be tried, and to constitute a bar to any subsequent proceedings for the same offense.

Under its charter the appellant had the right in constructing its railway to intersect and cross a highway, and change the location of such highway during the construction; but was required upon the completion of the work to restore the highway to its former state, or in a sufficient manner not to destroy its usefulness, and at a grade not exceeding the heaviest grade upon said road existing when the road was appropriated. The indictment charges the appellant with the offense of unlawfully creating and maintaining a public nuisance by taking possession of, altering and destroying a certain part of a public highway. In specifying the acts complained of it avers that the defendant took possession of the road for railroad purposes, and provided what it termed a "substitute" road, but avers that the substitute so provided was not as good as the old road, and that it is now and has been for a long while impassable and unfit for public travel, and was so rendered by the defendant making excavations and cuts below it. Held—That the indictment is insufficient, as it can not be determined with certainty what defendant is charged.

Mr. W. H. Booth, representing D. Appleton & Co., is in town for a few days.

ON account of sickness Very Rev. Father McLoughlin did not preach at St. Patrick's Church last night, but Father Smulders took the subject and made a few remarks. To-night Father McGeough will preach on "Mary, The Sinners' Intercessor." Services at 7:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

THE popularity of "Monte Cristo" was attested by a large audience which filled the Globe Theater last evening. It is, perhaps, enough to say of this impersonation that there is not another actor on the American stage so well fitted to succeed Mr. Fechter in this role as M. O'Neill.—Boston Herald.

THE services to-morrow at the M. E. Church will be a continuation of the special meetings that have been in progress the past week. At 11 a. m., devotion and baptism of the new converts. Preaching morning and night. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Class-meeting at 2 p. m. All are cordially invited. Rev. Thomas Hanford, pastor.

JAMES O'NEILL comes highly endorsed by the press. The Philadelphia Times says: "His portrayal of the Count is a finished piece of work. The character is one that calls for a display of true dramatic ability and force, something that Mr. O'Neill possesses in a high degree, and his performance is satisfactory in every way." See him at opera house to-night.

A SPECIAL from Carlisle says: "Last week ex-Sheriff Baxter killed a mad-dog on his premises, and it turns out that it had bitten a fine horse belonging to him. The other night the horse was attacked by the mad-dog, and after attacking his keeper was finally confined in a stable. He seized a colored man's arm but did not succeed in doing him any serious harm. The horse literally bit himself to pieces, and next this morning in great agony."

SAYS the Winchester Sun: "A couple from some rural district, accompanied by a third party, came here recently dead set on getting spliced. The would-be groom, who was quite young, got chicken-hearted, and after spending the whole day walking the streets and pleading with her to put it off, finally succeeded. They left on the late train, but not with as happy and bright faces as they struck our town in the morning. We will never forget the feelings of sympathy that came over us when she leaned against an electric light pole, and as the tears ran down her maiden cheek, said, 'Dear, why not to day?'"

IRISH HOME RULE.

Gladstone Has a New Scheme for His Followers.

IT IS BELIEVED THAT HE WILL CALL A MEETING SHORTLY.

The Campaign to Be Prosecuted With Extraordinary Vigor—Parnellites Criticize the Government—Renewed Rioting in Pesh—One Hundred Arrests Made. Other Foreign News.

LONDON, March 23.—There is every reason to believe that Mr. Gladstone will shortly call a meeting of his followers, and that a new scheme of Home Rule will be submitted for their adoption. The Nationalists and Liberals are to be drawn more closely together and an electioneering campaign begun. The campaign will be prosecuted with extraordinary vigor both by frequent speeches from prominent members of the two parties and by organization. Subscriptions are pouring in to assist the latter, one wealthy member in the Liberal ranks already having given £10,000.

A hard fight is expected in Ireland if the rumored sale of the Ponsonby estate proves to be authentic. It is reported that the estate, cleared of its tenants, has been sold to a London company for farming purposes. As there are 400 tenants on the place, and they are the most vigorous supporters of the plan of campaign, the government will probably require "all the queen's horses and all the queen's men," before they finish the business.

In the Reichstag.
BERLIN, March 23.—In the reichstag Thursday the bill providing for a dual administration of the naval department passed the second reading. In the debate Bismarck, replying to Richter's criticism, showed that the responsibility of the naval authorities to the reichstag would be in no way altered. The change, he said, was a constitutional one. He declined to be responsible for the commander of the navy. The plan only involved the application to the navy of a system that had already been tested in the army—namely, the placing of the admiral-in-chief at the head of the navy, just as the general-in-chief was at the head of the army. Of course, the emperor was the supreme commander of both branches.

Baron Von Frankenstein said he thought that the necessity for an immediate change had not been sufficiently shown. Prince Bismarck replying, said that the execution of the proposed change would demand some haste should the present peaceful prospects become clouded.

The Government Criticized.
LONDON, March 23.—The Parnellites criticize the government for want of fairness in the statement made by Mr. Matthews, the home secretary, in the house of commons, that the Parnellite counsel should have the same freedom of access to prisoners in getting up their case that the Times lawyers did. The Parnellites pertinently ask if they also will be allowed to extend pardon to convicts who will testify in their behalf as was done in the Times case. Without this powerful lever for raising evidence, the Times would not only possess the advantage they say but the "freedom of access" to convicts will be absolutely useless.

Further Rioting in Pesh.
PESTH, March 23.—The rioting was renewed here Thursday night. One hundred persons were arrested. The governor has issued a proclamation, declaring that the severest measures will be taken with the rioters. Prime Minister Von Tisza had an interview with Emperor Francis Joseph, and received full powers to stop the outbreaks. The emperor expressed the fullest confidence in the premier, and made him promise that he would not venture out without police protection. Herr Von Tisza said that the chief dangers were already over.

American Prize Beauty.
LONDON, March 23.—Mrs. Pierie, of New York, who competed in the Nice beauty show, was awarded the first prize, which she returned, with the request that it be devoted to charitable purposes. The members of a theatrical troupe who took part in the competition are chagrined at their failure to receive a prize.

OKLAHOMA.

Provisions By Which the Territory is Thrown Open to Settlers.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The provisions of the Indian appropriation bill under which part of the Oklahoma country is to be thrown open to settlement are as follows: An appropriation of $1,912,942 is made to pay the Seminole nations for all right and title to 2,037,415 acres of land ceded to the Indians in the treaty of June 14, 1886. Of this money, $1,500,000 is to remain in the treasury drawing 8 per cent. interest from July 1, 1889, payable semi-annually to the treasurer of the nation; and the balance to be subject to call by legislative enactment of the nation.

The lands, except the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of each township, which are to be reserved for public schools, are to be disposed of to actual settlers under the homestead law, provided that any person who, having attempted to, but for any cause failed to secure a title in fee to a homestead under existing law, who made entry under what is known as the commuted provision of the homestead law, shall be qualified to make a homestead entry upon said lands; and, provided further, that the rights of honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors in the late civil war as defined and described in sections 2304 and 2305 of the revised statutes shall not be abridged; and provided further, that each entry shall be in square form as nearly as practicable, and no person be permitted to enter more than one quarter section thereof, but until said lands are opened for settlement by proclamation of the president, no person shall be permitted to enter upon and occupy the same, and no person violating this provision shall ever be permitted to enter any of said lands or acquire any right thereto.

The secretary of the interior may, after said proclamation, and not before, permit entry of said lands for town sites under Sections 2387 and 2388 of the revised statutes, but no such entry shall embrace more than one-half section of land.

All of these provisions are to apply to the disposal of the lands acquired from the Muscogee or Creek Indians January 19, 1889.

The president is also authorized to appoint a commission to negotiate with the Cherokees and others owning lands west of the 96th degree of longitude of Indian Territory and to open these lands by proclamation under certain conditions.

The president is authorized to create one or two land districts embracing the land opened and to establish land offices.

The Oklahoma proclamation still hangs fire, but will probably be issued within a very few days. The matter is somewhat crowded aside by the rush of office-seekers, but it is generally understood that something will be said about it at the next cabinet meeting.

Telegraphic instructions were sent late yesterday afternoon to the officer in command of troops in the Oklahoma country from the war department. Officers are ordered to establish the identity of all raiders and preserve their names. The law provides that any one trespassing on the land before the country is opened for settlement, shall be debarred from making entry of any of the land.

POOR BIRMINGHAM.

Her Jail Again Guarded By Armed Men and Gatling Guns.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 23.—The bold and one of the most brutal crimes in the history of this city was committed about 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. J. M. Lundy, the wife of a retail grocery merchant, was knocked in the head with a heavy piece of iron and fatally injured by a negro named Jim Williams.

Not since the Hawes murders last December has there been such excitement in this city, and were it not for the fact that the jail is guarded by twenty well armed men and three Gatling guns, the negro would be lynched before many hours.

J. M. Lundy keeps a small store near the freight depot of the railroad station of the Kansas City road, about six blocks from the business center of the city, but in a thickly settled locality. Thursday morning Lundy had business up town, and left the store in charge of his wife. While Mrs. Lundy was alone a negro named Jim Williams entered the store with a heavy piece of railroad iron in his hand, wrapped in a handkerchief. He struck Mrs. Lundy on the forehead, fracturing her skull and knocking her senseless to the floor. The negro then robbed the cash drawer, securing about $2 in money, and then made off. He was seen by several people to enter the store and was seen a few moments later running away.

The crime was discovered in a little while, and an hour later the negro was captured, after a desperate struggle with a policeman. He was shot once by the officer, but not dangerously wounded. He was fully identified, and is now in jail. Mrs. Lundy is still alive, but cannot recover, and she has never regained consciousness.

News of the crime spread rapidly, and aroused great indignation. Prominent citizens suggested hanging the negro on one of the main streets before night. Soon after the negro was captured, Sheriff Smith placed a strong guard at the jail, and made every preparation to resist a mob if one should be organized. The Gatling guns of the Birmingham artillery company have been standing in the jail yard since the bloody riot in December, and they were got in readiness for use. These preparations, and the memory of the attempt to lynch Dick Hawes, which met such a bloody repulse, it is believed will prevent any attack on the jail.
